

Water District is Big Business--Holds Election February 7

The Company Belongs to the People

The La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District is you, Mr. and Mrs. Property Owner and Taxpayer.

The men who operate the company are your employees, paid by you to deliver water to your house. You have a vital stake in this publicly owned water company. It is yours to do with as you see fit.

It is by your vote that the elected officers and the manager are governed in their conduct of the business.

By your vote you can cause the company to keep abreast of the growth of the communities which it serves, or you can curtail its activities until a mere trickle of water comes through your faucets.

The La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District is big business; probably the biggest business in any one of the four communities which are served by its pipelines.

The district was formed back in 1913 by a vote of the people of La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, and that's how it got such a long name. El Cajon came into the district after it was formed, and the name had been adopted.

Dormant 13 Years
For 13 years the district produced no water and had nothing to sell. But in 1926 it commenced operations after acquiring the Spring Valley Mutual Water Company, the Lemon Grove Mutual Water Company and the Cuyamaca Water Company, a public utility.

In purchasing these three companies, the district fell heir to all the pipelines already underground, most of them of such small dimensions as to be almost inadequate even at that time.

The original purpose of the newly formed irrigation district was to bring mountain water for irrigation, but the rapid growth and development of the communities changed all that and caused dropping of irrigation in favor of furnishing water for domestic users.

So today the name of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District is more or less of a misnomer.

Has 15,700 Customers
The company has its business office at 4769 Spring street, La Mesa, and from this building handles the accounts of approximately 15,700 customers who paid the district $860,000 last year for water.

There are over 300 miles of water mains ranging in size from 3 inch to 42 inch pipes with a capacity of 22,000,000 gallons of water per day. The peak reached is 8,000,000 gallons, with a present daily average of 8 1/3 million gallons.

Hi, Neighbor

by Mae Rex Graham

Hi Neighbors will welcome Evelyn Wigton's new ladies apparel shop which has its opening this week end at 7763 Broadway in the new Sonka Building.

Mrs. Wigton is not a stranger to Lemon Grove as she has conducted a similar store in El Cajon for six years.

We are proud that Mrs. Wigton chose Lemon Grove out of many other possible locations for that expresses confidence in the people and in the future of our fair city.

We assure Mrs. Wigton that she will not be disappointed in the reception given her and in the patronage she will receive.

Residents of Lemon Grove are doing their shopping in local stores more and more each week.

Local merchants tell us that more shoppers are coming here too, from neighboring communities.

That is why seldom a day passes but that business and professional people are here looking for a new location.

People are wanting to come here to live, too. Rentals are the scarcest commodity we have.

Dr. James C. W. White wants so much to bring his family here. He says a two-bedroom house would be fine. He'll appreciate a lead if any of you good Hi Neighbors know of a possible rental.

Don't forget your contribution to the March of Dimes.

School Has First Aid Classes

Classes in First Aid training were begun this week at the Lemon Grove School, Room 26, as a part of the Civilian Defense program. Those enrolled are members of the school faculty, and are being instructed by Harry Gerdes of Hoover High School. Similar classes for the instruction of the adult population of our community are proposed, and time and date of such classes will be announced soon by Byron L. Netzel, local Defense Chief.

Junior high school pupils in the Lemon Grove District will receive adequate first aid instruction in the near future, according to S. K. Solder, director of School Disaster Control under the Defense program.

Christmas Seal Sale Report

Although San Diego County still is nearly $10,000 short of its 1950 Christmas Seal Sale quota, the Tuberculosis and Health Association is hopeful that the difference will be made up by late returns now coming in, according to Mrs. Frank L. Hope, Seal Sale Chairman.

Returns have totaled $75,768.70 but $4,178 of the persons who received seals have not sent in either money or unused seals. It is not too late for any county resident to contribute to the Seal Sale campaign. The 1951 program of the association and its plans for necessary expansion depend on meeting the quota of $85,000.

Place Ban on Stray Dogs in County

The problem of stray dogs in Lemon Grove School District may soon be dealt with effectively because of action taken at the County Board of Supervisors' meeting at Civic Center on Monday, beginning at 2:15. The Board adopted an ordinance concerning the licensing and control of dogs throughout the county. This will help correct the situation that has long been a serious problem to the schools in this district. Those animals which now stray in the community will be impounded.

The ordinance is already in effect, so it would be well for all dog owners to see that their pets are properly licensed and secured.

A large delegation from Lemon Grove attended the meeting in response to public demand from the South Bay and Lemon Grove areas that the poor conditions be eradicated.

Clever Plans to Raise Money for March of Dimes

Rules for the 1951 March of Dimes contest, winner of which will receive a new Chevrolet, are available now from Dr. Peter Shea, area chairman for the fund raising campaign. Key to the contest is the amount of money contributed to the March of Dimes in San Diego county by February 14, with the participant who estimates closest to the correct figure winning the car, which was given by an anonymous donor to raise funds for the March of Dimes.

Winner will be announced at the campaign finale in Russ Auditorium in San Diego at the Elks Valentine Revue starring Alan Young, radio and television star, on February 14. An all-professional cast of singers, dancers and comedy entertainers also are in the show.

National City, Palm City and Imperial Beach are staging for the first time in this county, a "Mothers' March of Polio," scheduled for February 5 between 7 p. m. and 8. A modified house-to-house solicitation, the "March" will have between four and five hundred mothers contacting homes with porch-lights turned on during that hour indicating a wish to participate in the fund raising effort. Church bells, search lights and street lights will be used to signal the start of the "March." Depending on the success of this unique solicitation method, it may be used on a county wide basis next year.

Disaster May Strike at Any Time

The initial meeting of the civilian Defense Organization, was held Tuesday noon at the school cafeteria, with Byron L. Netzel, Chief of Civilian Defense, and the local Disaster Control directors present.

This organization will work under, and in cooperation with the County Civilian Defense Program. Its purpose will be three-fold: to train a member of every household in First Aid, to distribute information concerning atomic attack and to organize volunteer disaster teams.

Deputy Sheriff Rigley, Director of Law Enforcement Services reported on a tentative county-wide plan for maintaining law and order, and for controlling traffic. Under this plan, there will be 10 volunteer auxiliary officers solicited for each regularly employed peace officer. They will be given a uniform course of instruction of 13 weeks duration, at the end of which they will be adequately trained to report for emergency duty in any part of the county, and ready for cooperation with any of the county law enforcement agencies.

A. C. Anderson, Director of Fire Fighting Services, reported that they are now operating under the state program, and that all men volunteering for this service, will be automatically covered by State Compensation Insurance, whether they have been trained or not.

Eventually the plan of the Fire Fighting Service is to employ three pieces of equipment, one located at each of the three schools, during an emergency and volunteers will be drawn from each local area in order to eliminate having to transport Fire Fighters from other areas. There will be training courses given at the three schools as the plan is now set up.

Sam Solleder, Director of School Disaster Control, advised that the local school children are being given emergency instruction in Civilian Defense against Disaster by means of an approved text "Americans Are Continued on page 8

Name Committees for Hospital Group

Appointment of three major committees highlighted the recent meeting of the directors of the Grossmont Hospital Association at the First Congregational church in La Mesa, with Richard Mills, president, presiding.

A strong membership committee headed by Mrs. Nan Coutts, of La Mesa, was named and includes Manfred Smith, of El Cajon, and Murray Kellock, of La Mesa.

This committee will lay out a long range membership program, to assist in raising necessary funds to launch and operate a successful drive to build a proposed 60-bed hospital at Grossmont.

As part of this overall program, a public relations committee will be named at once, to acquaint the people of the area with the importance of this community project. The board also named a nominating committee to bring back nominations for a 7-member executive committee to include the four officers.

Meanwhile, Andy T. Benson, the new executive secretary, has opened temporary offices in the Arcade building on Magnolia in El Cajon.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

DREW PEARSON

Man of Letters

IT LOOKS as if the "man of letters" in the White House is going to make a lot of money for the recipients of those letters.

Out in Denver, Dr. Neal Bishop, who suggested to Mr. Truman that John L. Lewis be appointed ambassador to Russia, is going to auction off his Trumanesque reply for the benefit of the Denver Community Chest.

The reply, which stated that he, Truman, would not even appoint John L. as dogcatcher, should bring a large amount of money—though Bishop has generously given the letter to the Community Chest and they will make the profit.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Paul Hume, the Washington Post music editor, has turned down various offers for his letter regarding Margaret Truman's singing. One offer is reported in five figures.

If Mr. Hume ever does decide to sell this coveted letter, it can make him much more dough than he realizes, for he will only have to pay a capital gains tax of 25 per cent on the sale. In other words, the Truman letter is not earned income, but a special personal gift from the President of the United States. A gift is not taxable until it is sold, and as long as Mr. Hume keeps the letter more than six months, his tax will be only 25 per cent.

If treasury agents argue about this, Mr. Hume can tell them quite truthfully that his letter is something which happens only once in a lifetime, that it was an unsolicited gift from the President, and that if any gift tax is paid it should come out of Harry Truman's pocket, not his.

Other people who got indignant letters from the President can also cash in on this nice low-bracket tax. In brief, the President has been awfully kind to Dr. Bishop, to Bernice Baruch, to Dr. Bishop, to Jimmie Byrnes and others. The only one he has slighted is me. Because when he buried the "servant of brotherhood" charge in my direction, he did it orally. He did not write me a letter.

Someday, if I can get up nerve enough, I am going to ask Mr. Truman to put it in writing, so I can have something either to hand down to my children or else sell under a capital gains tax.

New Order of Draft

Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey is recommending the following changes in the draft law to the new session of congress:

1. That the draft age be lowered from 18 to 16 years, with the maximum age limit kept at 25.
2. That deferment of enlistees in the organized reserves and the national guard be stopped.
3. That draft eligibles between 18 and 25 be taken in the following order: First, all unmarried students except the top third in their classes; second, married nonvets without children; third, unmarried veterans; last, nonvets with children.

Increased Living Cost

One thing that has stumped price czar Alan Valentine and Mike Di Salle is that they cannot impose price controls on certain farm products until the cost of living goes up even more.

This is because the farm bloc in congress inserted a provision in the price control bill whereby certain farm prices cannot be controlled at a point under parity or under the price of last May and June.

Because of this, the agriculture department has advised the big bakers and millers that they face no early price control. Bread will have to increase one or two cents a loaf to permit price controls, Ralph Trig, the department's production and marketing boss, privately informed bakers and millers last week.

The agriculture department has also informed Economic Stabilizer Valentine that over-all controls on farm products would raise the nation's food bill 5 to 10 per cent because of the number of commodities now below parity prices.

Meat Price Ceilings

Of the foods that will be controlled, beef, lamb and veal top the list. All are above parity. Price Administrator Di Salle will have a meeting with Chicago meatpackers and western cattlemen this month and expects to put a price ceiling on meat in February. It will take at least that time for him to get organized.

Silver Bullets

A plan to use "silver bullets," the ancient and still most effective weapon in China, is being carefully studied by U.S. strategists.

One specific proposal offers hard cash and a guarantee of food to Chinese who surrender to United Nations forces in Korea. A soldier with rifle or pistol would get $10 plus six months food rations. A soldier surrendering a mortar would get one ounce of gold, and so on up to five gold bars.

Joseph Todd, Dickson City, Pa., during a break in action against the Reds somewhere in Korea, his fellows are strengthening their lines against stronger moves by the Communist forces. Both men are from the Eighth army.

ATOMIC ENERGY STRATEGY . . . Atomic energy chairman Gordon Dean (above) said recently that the government will have to "cut down" its development of atomic energy for peacetime uses because of the international situation. Dean, shown with A.E.C. member, Henry D. Smythe (right) also declared emphatically that Russia does have the atomic bomb. Civilian defense authorities are acting so that probability as cities in critical zones are prepared for atomic attack.

S.O.S. to Germany

I HAVE A FAVORITE PIPE. It was given to me by a friend, who secured it from the factory in London, where it was made. Should anything irreparable happen to that pipe, I could not replace it because the factory and all of its seasoned briars, accumulated over more than 100 years, was destroyed by a German bomb during World War II. That piece of wanton destruction constitutes my pet peeve against Hitler and his German hordes.

I am sure my affection for that pipe aids in my understanding of the attitude of the French people toward the creation of a new German army. Other nations, including ourselves, look to Germany as a protection against the possible attack of the Russian hordes on Western Europe. It is early for the French people to dim their memories of destroyed homes, ravaged farms, the death of loved ones, for which the German army was responsible. But hard as it may be, the French people and the French government must think of the immediate future, and what an invasion of Stalin and his Russian hordes would mean to them and to all the free peoples of the world. The free world needs and must have a German army if the overrun of Western Europe is to be prevented.

That there is danger for France in the recreation of the German army cannot be denied. That nation has suffered the agonies of invasion by Germany three times in a little more than half a century. Quite naturally they do not want another, but an invasion by the hordes of Russia would be even worse, and it is a choice between these two that France is being called upon to make. The free world, including ourselves, that is seeking protection against Stalin and his Red army, should be able to offer France ample assurance against another attack from Germany, as the price we must pay for French consent to the rearming of Germany. With that insurance, we are in a position to insist.

This nation, and others of the North Atlantic pact, have been patient for an all too long a time, when Germany considers what is at stake. France has not listened to the arguments of diplomacy. It is high time that she hear the voice of a soldier, the voice of a respected and capable commander who has but recently rescued France from an aggressor, a man garbed in a uniform and speaking the language of a soldier, rather than the voice of diplomacy garbed in the frock coat, striped pants and high hat of the state department.

If the free world is to have a chance of stopping the Russians before they overrun all of Western Europe, including France, and reach the shores of the Atlantic, we must have that German army. The interests of the free world are greater than those of France alone. Time is running out, there is no more left for further argument. The state department has failed. It is high time to try something else. Let us try a soldier as a spokesman, a sympathetic soldier to be sure, a uniform, rather than a frock coat that has failed.

European nations, including Russia, have always understood the language of the respected soldier better than that of a non-too-well qualified, and largely repudiated diplomat.

It is high time we had a change if the free world, including France, is to convince Stalin that aggression in Western Europe might be decidedly unpredictable. Just as it is high time that I stop sighing about what may happen to a favorite pipe, and concentrate on the more serious problems of the period. It may be a hard thing to do, but the French must forget their pet peeve and concentrate on what may be coming tomorrow. Presentation of that subject by one for whom they had regard and respect would quite probably be helpful to them in seeing and choosing the road ahead.

A new contract the Chrysler corporation has signed with its 105,000 employees means an annual wage increase for the company to pay of over $2,000,000, and more if the cost of living increases. That is one item in the inflation spiral.

The freezing of wages is not popular with the labor bosses.

Governor Dewey of New York made a speech on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 13, that President Truman should have liked to have made on Friday evening, Dec. 15 in Washington, except he had been doing so, it might have called for explanation as to how the nation arrived at the condition described during the President's administration.

This Cured Him "I used to snore so loud I'd wake up, but I cured myself. I sleep in the next room now."

Down the Hatch The doctor was examining a naval hospital orderly for advancement in rating. "What would you do if the captain fainted on the bridge?"

"Bring him to," warbled the aspiring orderly. "Then what?" asked the doctor. "Bring him two more," returned the man promptly.

Cash on the Brain "What is your chief worry?" "Money."

"Oh, I didn't know you had any!" "I haven't."

Scratch! "What makes you so uneasy? Is your conscience troubling you?" "No, it's my winter underwear."

Paradox "I notice that you smoke your cigarette shorter."

"Yep. That's because I smoke 'em longer."

Reason for Applause Actor (to colleague)—"What delightfully cold weather, Laddie. We're sure to get some good applause today from the unreserved parts of the house, while they're getting their hands and feet warm!"

Can't Borrow Shelves A visitor to Mark Twain's home commented upon the abundance of books, and the rather limited accommodations for them.

"Yes," agreed Mark, a bit wistfully. "Yes, but it's so difficult to get friends to loan you shelves."

Lazy Actor John Barrymore was in San Francisco on the morning of the earthquake. He was thrown out of bed by one of the shocks, spun around on the floor and left gasping.

According to Sara Lorraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Lorraine says she used to feel.

Here is Lorraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

A little heralded action in Sacramento has vindicated California's Legislature—if vindication is needed—for three pulling the rug from under compulsory health insurance.

At a cost of $2.50 monthly, every lawmaker and non-civil service member of the Executive,
Legislative and Judicial branches
of State Government, from Governor Warren to the lowest clerk in the Assembly, has been offered an individual voluntary health insurance policy.

That action, taken by two leaders in the health insurance field, the California-Western States Life Insurance Company
and the Occidental Life Insurance Company of California, is indication of the unprecedented social progress in the field of voluntary health insurance.

When a government payroll tax system of compulsory health insurance first was introduced in California some years ago, voluntary health insurance was practically an infant. Few people were covered, some two million policies were sold only on a group basis, and there were many who scoffed that it could ever fill the need for pre-paid, budget basis medicine.

Today, statisticians estimate that approximately seven million of California's ten million people have health insurance purchased voluntarily and tailored to meet their individual need.

The policy being offered to members of the Legislature and public officials, it is reported, covers medical, surgical and hospital benefits. For $1.75 a month, in addition to their own premium of $2.50, married officials can purchase protection

for their wives—and for $1.19,
protection for the first child.
Two or more children can be covered for $2.37.

What do the politicians think of it? Governor Warren, at this writing, hasn't said whether he wants it or not. By and large the legislators are just beginning to reply, some Democrats and some republicans taking the policy. The fact that Assemblyman Julian Beck, minority leader, has taken a policy is indication, however, that partisanship doesn't seem to be involved.
Company officials point out, too,
that reception from the non-civil service employees of California's government has been rapid and affirmative.

Undoubtedly other compulsory health insurance bills will be talked in Sacramento in the future—just as those who sell voluntary insurance report they will work to better it and see that everyone has the opportunity to take a policy if it is wanted. But also in Sacramento, those legislators who turned thumbs down on government medicine from 1945 on make it clear that they are just a little proud that their faith in the voluntary way has paid off.

It might be carried in by the back door, but compulsory health insurance, as such, is dead, Capitol observers predict, in California.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORRIS

California's wettest winter in years hasn't dampened growing interest in artificial rainmaking.
Both in Sacramento and Washington, California legislators are studying proposed licensing and other regulatory measures to encourage and control rainmaking experimentation.

Representative Thomas Werdell
of Bakersfield, who heads a special cloud-seeding study subcommittee of the California delegation, is convinced that the Central Valley's perennial water shortage could be alleviated by increasing precipitation over the Sierra Nevada by scientific means. Excessive rainfall in the wrong places, he believes, too,
could be reduced in order to forestall damaging floods such as California has recently experienced.

Representative Werdell has introduced legislation to establish a joint Congressional committee

to develop and control cloud nucleation techniques. The proposed committee also would consider the need for a licensing program to prevent irresponsible rainmaking experimentation which may do more harm than good.

The Bakersfield Congressman
points out that because storms generated artificially spread and continue until dissipated naturally, such storms intended for one watershed where flood control facilities exist may spread to other watersheds with disastrous results. Indiscriminate rainmaking could also prove damaging in the vicinity of developments
chosen for their arid locations
such as Edwards Air Force Base
at Muroc Lake or the Naval ordnance test station at Inyokern.

One of the responsible rain-making experiments being studied by the Werdell subcommittee is the highly successful cloud-seeding project undertaken since 1947 by Southern California's California Electric Power Co.
That year the company's power production was only 65 per cent of normal, because of lack of rain over the 13,000-foot watershed. Cloud-seeding with dry ice has increased run-off by 6500

acre-feet of water annually, adding an average annual power increase of 14,300,000 kilowatt-hours. A by-product of the company's rain-making operation
last year was the successful quenching of a forest fire in an inaccessible area.

The experience of the California Electric Power Company and other responsible experimentation has convinced many legislators that rainfall can be economically diverted to lessen flood dangers in some localities and produce desperately needed irrigation in dry areas.

Some day, perhaps, large-scale
water control operations by State or Federal agencies may make the sprawling canal systems and giant dams presently envisioned by government engineers for the Nation's major river networks obsolete and unnecessary.

CAPITOL-COUNTY

News Letter

BY

ASSEMBLYMAN RALPH R. CLOYED

The California State Legislature ended its second week
with a record-
breaking number of bills having been introduced. This is explained by a new rule requiring that all state department bills be presented within the first two weeks. Many bills have been introduced as spot bills in skeleton form because of the unprecedented rush
in the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

The Assembly has adopted an adjournment resolution effective Tuesday, February 23. However, neither house can adjourn without the consent of the other house.

Continuation of child care centers was assured with passage of Assembly Bill No. 21, by Mr.
Geddes. The bill appropriates
$1,800,000 to finance centers until June 30, 1951.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate the Sherwin bill, Assembly Bill No. 38, providing money to boost by 10 percent
salaries of $3,000 state employees (over 1,000 in San Diego County).
It carries an appropriation of $8,740,373. State employees have not had an increase since 1948
and their salaries are far below
the standard of private industry.
The Senate will probably pass
the bill if they don't get in a fight over the Fleury amendment. The Sherwin bill provides money for a 5 percent increase retroactive to January 1
and a 5 percent increase beginning July 1. The Fleury amendment would provide money for a 10 percent increase retroactive to January 1. The Fleury amendment brought forth a warning from Governor Warren
that he will not approve an appropriation that would put the state in the red. Warren has the power to reduce an appropriation bill before signing it.

Pension promoter George Mc-Lain's welfare initiative is being heard before a joint committee of the Senate and Assembly.
Assemblywoman Kathryn Nie-house was elected chairman of the committee. Senator Weybret opposed the selection and walked out. Mrs. Niehouse comments: "How is one going to work with anyone as arbitrary?"
The pension scheme would provide for an increase of $110,000-000 per year to old age pensioners, and must be passed by the Legislature as presented within 40 days after the Legislature convenes or go on the ballot for a vote of the people.

Assemblyman Rosenthal of Los Angeles had his pride hurt
and wants to change the name of the Assembly to House of Representatives. He was stopped right in front of his house by a policeman and upon telling the officer that he was an Assemblyman he was asked, "In what factory?"

Senator Collier, co-author of the Burns Collier Highway Bill, is seeking backing for a $140,- 000,000 highway program. He proposes a billion bond issue to be paid back by a 2c a gallon tax on gasoline. This would increase the tax on gasoline, Federal, and State, to 8c per gallon.
Crossfiling foes met objection
from legislators, the joint committee which is considering the initiative petition to abolish crossfiling in the primaries. Appearing before the Committee in support of the initiative was a representative of League of Women Voters and one of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO). Most legislators, as well as Governor Warren, it is reported, are opposed to the initiative.

If it is not passed by the Legislature, it like the McLain pension scheme, will go on the November 1952 ballot.

Other bills the Legislature will consider when they return in March are bills providing for compulsory health insurance, revocation of driver licenses for drunk driving, increase of pay to Supreme and Appellate Court Justices, tobacco tax on cigarettes, and a bill providing for the study of employer discrimination because of race.

Senator McCarthy, part-owner
of the Sacramento Solons, is continually pestered for passes by his colleagues. The latest gag was a phony bill banning the sale
of popcorn, peanuts, hot dogs,
etc. The author is Senator Kraft of San Diego.

Bills introduced by San Diego County legislators would return to the State Highway System the section of Highway 78 between Vista and Escondido. Another for the Fallbrook Irrigation District and still another would make it possible for a session of the Superior Court in the northern part of the county and one enabling legislation whereby a tunnel could be built between San Diego and Coronado if the voters approved.

Few visitors from San Diego County visited the Legislature
this week. County Treasurer Del Dixon and Mrs. Dixon of National City were guests of our county delegation between sessions of the County Treasurers Association. Calvin Lauderback, elementary school superintendent from Chula Vista, along with Engineer Freeland, was successful in approval by the allocation board for extra class rooms and the transfer of a class room to be built at the Hilltop School instead of the Harborside School, and still found time to visit the Capitol and observe the Legislature at work.

ave Your Jobless Pay

By ROSS GRAHAM

Ed. Note: This is the fourth of a series of ten special articles.

It would be hard to believe such a sweet, neat and business-like appearing girl is one of the thousands who are "chiseling" the California unemployment insurance fund to such an extent that even in this year of prosperity, the fund is diminishing.

But she is a typical example of the chiselers who "are available for work," a requirement in order to get unemployment benefits.

This little lady got tired of working and wanted a vacation—with pay—at the expense of the public pocketbook—and her fellow-workers.

So she quit her job and after waiting the disqualification period, began to draw the maximum of $25 a week for 26 weeks.

She must have been capable, because she held her previous job long enough to pile up the required earnings in her base period to qualify for unemployment insurance payments.

Let's say she is a stenographer. She makes her regular report to the Unemployment Insurance Commission branch office and states she is available for work. There are numerous calls for stenographers, so she is given a referral slip and sent out to be interviewed by a prospective employer.

She does not get the job. If the Commission checks up, it finds:

She refused the job because the pay was insufficient.

She refused the job because she would be required to do mimeograph work in addition to stenographic work.

She went home before applying for the job, put on sloppy clothes, made her entire personal appearance sloppy, used bad grammar at the interview and if given a typing test, deliberately failed.

Probably more chiseling is perpetrated on the question of availability than in any other way.

The Commission disqualifies more individuals on this issue than on any other.

But still, too many of these chiselers get by.

A laundry worker is out of a job. She files a claim for benefits. There is a demand for most laundry workers. She holds out as long as she can on grounds there is no job within reasonable distance of her home. What is "reasonable distance" for an honest worker?

Again, here is a case where the employer helps a worker chisel: A garment worker during the slack season is given $150 in work tickets. The first week she turns in $15 in work tickets to her employer, who gives her a partial earning slip to give to the Commission, showing earnings for the week as $15. She is paid 13 in benefits from the fund.

The worker does this the next week, and the next.

The fourth week she turns in the remaining $105 in work tickets and of course does not apply for unemployment payments for that week.

In this manner the employer keeps the worker from seeking steady work elsewhere, and thus available to him when he needs her.

The fact that it is a dishonest raid on the unemployment insurance fund does not bother him. He is paying the maximum rate of 2.7 per cent anyway. What has he to lose?

If enough employers do this, he will lose his 2.7 per cent tax rate, along with every other employer, and pay 3 per cent or higher, in order to keep the unemployment insurance fund solvent.

But how about this new amendment to the act, that individuals asking benefits be forced to "seek work on their own?"

This is one of the easiest requirements to evade, possibly because the Unemployment Commission does not have enough investigators to check such people.

When making her weekly appearance for certification of benefits at the Unemployment Insurance Commission office, the average person's interview lasts less than one minute.

A man, or woman, intent upon chiseling, will come prepared with a list of firms and state that he or she has applied, in vain, at all of these firms for work.

Even if the commission had the personnel to check such claims, it would in many cases be impossible, because the average firm does not keep a record of all the people who apply for work.

So there is no way to check these claims, and the chiseler goes merrily on for another week, on unemployment insurance.

One weakness of the unemployment insurance act is that the "suitable employment" definition is too restrictive.

It doesn't allow a bricklayer to refuse a job laying yellow bricks because he is a "red brick" layer, but in too many cases it allows a claimant to get unemployment insurance and refuse employment on similar flimsy pretexts.

The Commission tries to send out qualified applicants for jobs, but the Commission needs amendments to the act if it is going to stop such chiseling.

Outright frauds against the act, which are punishable as felonies, will be described in the next installment.

Parent's Guild

The Parents Guild met last Thursday evening observing the third anniversary at this meeting because of the February date coming in lent.

Plans were started for the annual ham dinner to be held March 18.

James K. Martin and Mrs. Ferd McClintock were appointed on the Disaster Relief committee, their alternates, Mrs. Ben Ruef and Mrs. James K. Martin.

The ladies have started a quilt to be sold later. The quilting will be done at the home of Mrs. Fred Johnson, 7872 Central.

Mrs. James Olney, 3945 Violet, has been quite ill at her home and is recuperating slowly.

D. R. Sperandio of La Mesa, is very ill in the Naval Hospital. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Carlton, 8236 Vernier drive, are moving to El Centro this week end where Mr. Carlton is employed. They are leaving Lemon Grove, only because of business reasons, but hope to come back here to live before long.

Lemon Grove School News

Lemon Grove School

Members of the Gold Citizenship Club of Junior High were awarded for their achievements by a trip to Grossmont High School, where they witnessed a thrilling basketball game between the Grossmont Cagers and the Pt. Loma team last Friday evening. These boys and girls, on their first quarter reports, were marked excellent in industry, responsibility, cooperation, and courtesy by all the teachers. Members who gain membership in the club for two consecutive report periods will be awarded with letters and another trip.

Students, who accompanied J. Moore, the faculty sponsor, were Peggy Lester, Margaret Moraville, Janice Jewett, Shirley Quist, Kristin Johnson, Burton Young, Deanne Whalen, Robert Burgeen, Patricia Durlin, Melvin Robinson, Lawrence Reese, Bert Moorhead, Lois Montrose, Richard Reed, Charlotte Norris, Arthur Cornelius, Doris Keyser, Betty Myers, Judy Pratt, Nancy Sunbury, Gloria Herr, Travis Keeton, Marlene Apple, Naomi Goynes, Patricia Pfister, Sally Thibault, Irvin Brown, Marilyn Bunch, and Wanda Turner.

Students of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades will be given an opportunity to hear the San Diego Symphony Youth concert on Saturday morning. Admission will be 30 cents, and transportation will be provided by school buses.

S. K. Solleder, director of education, attended a panel meeting of county elementary school principals at San Diego State College on Tuesday. Plans were discussed for the coming Principals convention to be held in Berkeley on March 18 through March 21.

A meeting of all school principals of the Lemon Grove School District was called at noon on Tuesday, by S. K. Solleder, recently-appointed director of School District Control here. Definite plans were made for drills and other protective measures, to be used in the schools during the present emergency, varying as to size and type of classrooms in the district. It is hoped that such training will begin within the next 10 days. First aid training for all boys and girls of the seventh and eighth grades is also planned by the school. Principals attending were Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, Arthur Thomas, and Ben Schei.

Members of the School Safety Patrol who will be guests of John van Gilse Saturday for a matinee at the Grove Theatre. Maves, Buddy Durlin, John Cornelius, Robert Davis, Donald Newton and Lorenzo Alvarez, Kenneth Hill, Richard Day, Gary Dunn, Barney Turney, Vernon Boys of the seventh grade physical education classes staged a free shot throw contest on Tuesday under the direction of Coaches Davis and Frailey. Gary Trushinsky, of 7-2, took top honors, with Ronnie Svalstad, 7-1, winning second place.

Monterey Heights School
The children in Mrs. See's second grade recently had an opportunity to visit Conklin's Bakery, as a part of their study of community life. Thus, the machinery and operation of the bakery was better understood by the boys and girls.
Mrs. Verne Hoff, who conducted the students through the establishment, passed out cookies and Peter Wheat comes to all. The climax of the trip was the decorating of a beautiful cake inscribed "Monterey Heights School, Second Grade," that was presented to the class. Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Silenack accompanied the class and helped serve the cake at the snack period.

Later in class, many interesting letters were written by the children, who thanked Mr. Hoff for their enjoyable visit to the bakery.

The pupils of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades of the Monterey Heights School had the pleasant opportunity of hearing Miss Cynthia Ketchum, director of education at the San Diego Zoo, tell about the interesting animals native to South America and our own Southwest, on Wednesday of last week.

Excellent colored film strips, illustrating her discussion, made the animals "come alive" for the boys and girls, who kept Miss Ketchum busy answering questions after her talk.

The second grade boys and girls in Mrs. Bower's room at Monterey Heights School visited Mrs. Conklin's Bakery on Thursday, January 11. This trip was part of their study of bakeries, and it helped them to see that many people's work to provide a loaf of bread. They were shown all the processes of bread-making, from mixing to wrapping.

They were also shown how the cakes, frostings, and cookies were made and they were delighted when they were given cookies and a beautiful cake, which was decorated for them while they watched.

Mothers who accompanied the class on the trip were Mrs. Davy, Mrs. Cordova, and Mrs. McKinney.

Vista La Mesa School

Mrs. Thompson's morning kindergarten at Vista La Mesa has enrolled Susan Kozey as a transfer student.

The sharing time in the kindergarten is one of the most enjoyable periods. It has been especially enriched by some very fine record stories of little Black Sambo and Peter Rabbit. These were brought to school by Carol Weeks and Linda Moleksi of the morning class.

The children are also acting out the story of the Three Bears, as told on the victrola. The record is enjoyed for its entertainment, but also because of the hand-painted story strip which is shown while the record is played. This is just one of the many types of approach to the teaching of good listening used by Mrs. Berdel in her contribution toward sharing with the children.

Vista La Mesa PTA

Founder's Day will be observed by the Vista La Mesa PTA at its regular meeting on February 1 at 7:45 p. m. in the kindergarten room of the school. Mrs. Kenneth Trytten has planned a skit and candle-lighting ceremony by the members in addition to the yearly birthday cake rites. Several vocal numbers will be presented by the 4-H girls.

An honorary life membership will be presented to some worthy member by Mrs. Carl Planchon, committee chairman. The nominating committee for next year's officers will be elected.

The Executive Board will be hostesses during the refreshment hour. Child care will be provided.

At the last board meeting Rev. Russell Hensley and Mrs. George Cox resigned their offices since both families are moving away. The places were filled by John Ramsted as auditor and Mrs. Sarranto Sarrantos as Well Baby chairman.

Mrs. Trytten announced a rummage sale to be held March 21 and asked that any donations be taken to her garage at 3926 Massachusetts, or she will pick them up for anyone who calls H 6-7267.

W. S. Rowland has conducted one meeting of the study group to help parents understand the modern methods of teaching the 3 R's. Arithmetic will be studied on February 7, reading on February 21, and writing on March 7. The meetings are held every other Wednesday evening in Mr. Rowland's home.

"Bring him to," warbled the aspiring orderly.

"Then what?" asked the doctor.

"Bring him two more," returned the man promptly.

SHORT STORY

The Last Straw

By Lulu W. Kelloms

IN THEIR EARLIER married years Flora and Ralph Wilson were an ideal couple. Both were handsome and jolly, with identical tastes and friends. But, as they grew older, Flo matured, while Ralph tried to stay boyish and frisky.

"Why not act your age?" she often asked.

"We have such a lovely, comfortable home for middle aged folks. Our department store is dignified enough for older management. You don't have to keep up a front."

Ralph would chuckle. "Not jealous of your old man, are you, baby? No foolin', I don't show the years a bit, do I?"

"It's not honest," Flo contended. "Everyone recognizes middle age when he sees it. Anyone can recognize a topper."

But she knew when to hush. They mustn't quarrel over trifles. Of course, she didn't think this growing breach in their ages was a trifle, but Ralph did.

Every day she felt more strongly that something must be done to preserve their marriage; and every day she could think of no possible solution.

One morning she said, "I—I don't feel like going to the store, dear. I'm sure Miss Gray can manage alone. There's housecleaning and things to do here."

"Okay dear," Ralph agreed readily, kissing her good-bye.

Fear stabbed Flo. Why did he agree so hastily? Why didn't he ask her what was wrong? She had an impulse to change her mind and go. But tears and self-pity were aching in her eyes and throat.

To conceal her feelings, she said briskly, "Wear this old hat, dear. I want to send that one to the cleaner's."

"But it's so shabby and it doesn't fit well."

Stubbornly Flo held out the old straw hat until he donned it reluctantly, leaving his soft gray felt on a chair. She refused to watch him swagger off, whistling like their son Danny when he was a college freshman.

Tears blurred her vision while she picked up things and cleaned and swept. What was something that would save their marriage, something like taking reducing exercises, or turning kiteshifting?

The idea was revolting. She had no heart to compete with their three young daughters. If—she had just begun years ago trying to remain glamorous instead of turning into a mother, maybe things would have worked out better.

BY NOON, she felt less frustrated. She even bunched while she whipped up Ralph's favorite cake and cooked potatoes. If she had an especially appetizing supper, and the children were in jubilant mood, maybe Ralph would see how well off he was. Maybe, just once, he would forget his diet.

At 5:05 the children called saying they had to stay for play practice. Flo's spirits dropped. Would Ralph call, too, pretending that business detained him, leaving her alone in the dark, silent house?

"Funnest thing happened," Ralph said. "When I took off my hat my toupee came off, too."

She waited with apprehension. At 5:15 sharp she heard the car stop, then Ralph's step on the porch.

"Supper ready, Mom?" he called. "Dread gripped Flo. He'd called her mom instead of baby, or dear! Just one day's staying home made her seem old-fashioned to him!"

He strode into the living-room. "Mom, you're looking at a successful man! Today I landed that fat Aikinson account, Mr. Kimley, their new buyer, said I looked like a settled, respectable business man."

He chuckled at Flo's astonished face. "Funnest thing happened. Remember how tight that little I took it off in front of that flippant Miss Gray and the office force, they all started giggling. My toupee came off, too, so I glared—like I meant to look fifty, instead of thirty. It's a wonderful feeling of relief. What's for supper, Mom?"

"Potatoes and your favorite cake, Dad!" As they marched in to supper, arm in arm, Flo just knew that there never had been such a lovely bald head as her husband's.

SPORTSMAN'S HORIZON

On The Silly Side

There are "flocks" of geese and "flocks" of sheep and maybe this goose didn't know the difference. Thomas Erhart of Salisbury Mo., told Conservation Agent E. R. Carpenter of Charleston county that recently while herding his sheep across the road to a pasture, the procession was joined by a blue goose. The goose landed at the rear of the flock and proceeded to follow it to the pasture. "For five days Mr. Blue stayed with the sheep," Erhart related, "coming with them into the barn at night and back to the pasture in the morning, always on foot and never attempting to fly except for an occasional trip to a nearby pond and then right back with the sheep. Then the goose left and was gone three days after which it returned and stayed with the sheep for another two days."

From Conservation Agent Clyde R. Wilson of Ozark county comes this story: "Perry Cowart, Gainesville service station operator, has been quite busy lately. In addition to his regular duties he has taken upon himself the chore of trying to prevent a male bluebird from killing himself. Once or twice each day, Cowart frightens the spirited bird away from a large silver sign hanging near the station. The bird sits in a nearby tree and every once in a while flies down and flogs his image in the sign."

For those who scoff the superstition surrounding black cats, comes this recent happening from Conservation Agent George Labuta of St. Louis county: "St. Louisian D. C. Benzel was driving along residential Page Avenue of this city one day recently when he became involved in a most unusual accident. A black cat scampered wildly across his path close upon the heels of which came a large eight-point buck deer. The cat made it but the deer did not. Result: a front fender of Benzel's car was severely damaged and the deer killed."

Still Producing

If there were some way to pin a medal on a duck, a somewhat mournful-looking shoveller he might sport a bronze disc for reliability and faithful service to science, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

Every year since 1947, just after the break-up of the ice on the vast delta-marshes of Manitoba, this duck, long ago dubbed "Shiela" by personnel of the delta waterfowl research station, has returned to the same little patch of grass to nest. During this time, she has produced some 60 known eggs and has returned to a spot within two hundred yards of previous nesting sites each season despite the fact that research workers at the station have taken her eggs, have trapped her repeatedly, and have dubbed her wings with red paint for ease in identification. Ignoring these invasions of her privacy, she has turned up regularly each year ready to go to work as soon as spring has pushed the snows and ice north of her favorite meadow.

Shiela's activities, carefully recorded by Lyle Sows, biologist on the delta staff, have contributed valuable data on the nesting and homing habits of waterfowl that may be applied to future management programs. In the event that late and a charge of chilled axes should interfere with her plans for the coming year, the hunter who brings her to bay still can help her make one last contribution to human knowledge of her kind by returning her band, No. 47-604004, to the U.S. fish and wildlife service.

How 'Bout It?

Do deer really trample snakes to death?

Perhaps a due, in defense of her young, may have done so. However, according to reliable reports from game management experts, every deer posseholder exhibited the utmost terror of all snakes, regardless of the sex of the deer viewing the reptile.

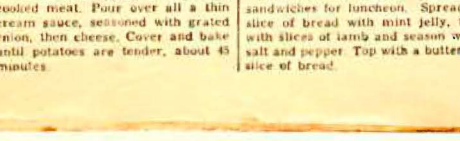

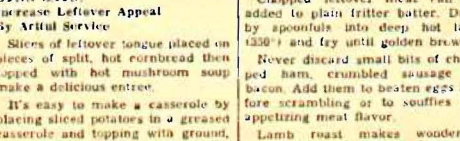

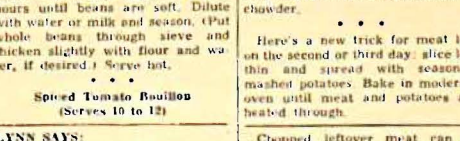

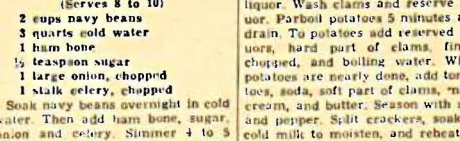

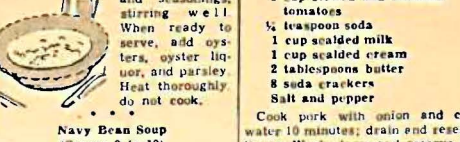

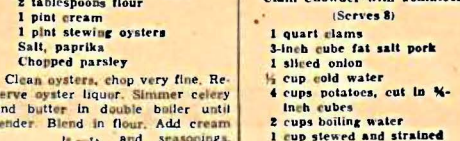

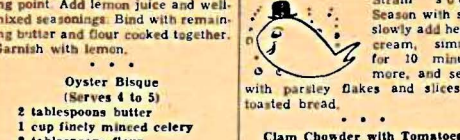

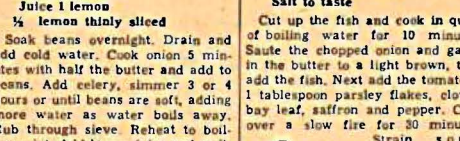

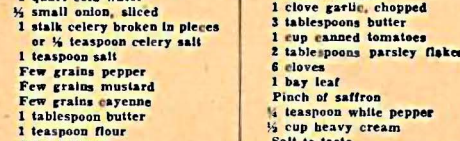

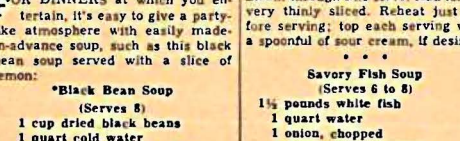

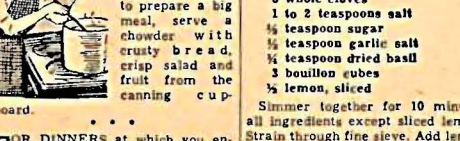

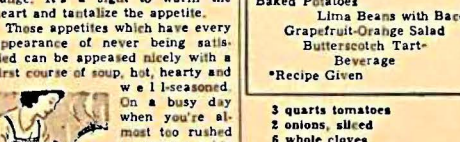

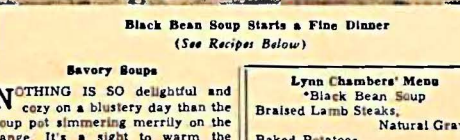

It was found that even a piece of rope, held in the hand and agitated in a manner to resemble a snake, would prevent a buck deer from charging, when a club held in the hand failed of that purpose.

As for the question as to which of the deer's senses is the most acute, a query frequently put to game management officials, the answer is the deer's hearing. Air movements govern their sense of smell and their vision is very poor regarding stationary objects. But, man, are they quick to hear any rustle or noise!

Casting Minnows

When casting the minnow to a spot where you think a big fish may be lurking, cast as far out into deep water as possible and retrieve slowly, pulling a few inches at a time. The chances of getting a strike depend to a large extent on the life and action given the minnow. When the strike does come, let the fish take the bait on the first run. After he has paused and started out on the second run, a strike usually will insure a fish

LYNN SAYS:
Increase Leftover Appeal by Artful Service
Slices of leftover tongue placed on pieces of split, hot cornbread then topped with hot mushroom soup make a delicious entrée.
It's easy to make a casserole by placing sliced potatoes in a greased casserole and topping with ground, cooked meat. Pour over all a thin cream sauce, seasoned with grated onion, then cheese. Cover and bake until potatoes are tender, about 45 minutes.

Clam Chowder with Tomatoes
(Serves 8)
1 quart clams
3-inch cube fat salt pork
1 sliced onion
1/2 cup cold water
4 cups potatoes, cut in 1/2-inch cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 cup stewed and strained tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup scalded milk
1 cup scalded cream
2 tablespoons butter
8 soda crackers
Salt and pepper
Cook pork with onion and cold water 10 minutes; drain and reserve liquor. Wash clams and reserve liquor. Pour potatoes 5 minutes and drain. To potatoes add reserved liquor, hard part of clams, finely chopped, and boiling water. When potatoes are nearly done, add tomato, soda, soft part of clams, milk, cream, and butter. Season with salt and pepper. Salt crackers, soak in cold milk to moisten, and reheat in chowder.

Here's a new trick for meat loaf on the second or third day: slice loaf thin and spread with seasoned, mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven until meat and potatoes are heated through.

Chopped leftover meat can be added to plain fritter batter. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot lard (350°) and fry until golden brown.

Never discard small bits of chopped ham, crumbled sausage or bacon. Add them to beaten eggs before scrambling or to soufflés for appetizing meat flavor.

Lamb roast makes wonderful sandwiches for luncheon. Spread a slice of bread with mint jelly, top with slices of lamb and season with salt and pepper. Top with a buttered slice of bread.

Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pines from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations.

Put Pines into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of splendid medicine—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is surprising. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It soothes phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, eases soreness. Make breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

SALESMAN SOLD ALL BUT HIMSELF

Though he sold thousands of policies covering sickness and accident, an insurance salesman sheepishly admits he forgot to protect his own health.

As he explains, "I spent my days and evenings extolling the importance of protecting one's health, at the same time, I was completely neglecting my own health by eating irregularly and working long hours under great pressure. As a result, my resistance soon ran down and I was an easy prey for colds. Habitual colds, sleepless nights and lack of appetite soon affected my business, as well as my family life.

"Luckily, my wife talked it over with our pharmacist, who told her that many doctors advise the remarkable N-R-G (Energy) Brand Vitamins. It only took one bottle to prove to me that resistance-building NRG (Energy) Brand Vitamins are the best health insurance policy that I own! And the best part of all, these remarkably potent vitamins are so economical—cost less per day than the price of a package of cigarettes!"

If you suffer from lack of energy, sleepless nights, lack of appetite and that "all gone" feeling, see your friendly Haislip's pharmacist. Discover for yourself how, for less than the price of a package of cigarettes per day, you, too, can enjoy better health through N-R-G (Energy) Brand Vitamins. In Lemon Grove, N-R-G (Energy) brand vitamins, exclusively at Haislip's Drug Store, 7801 Broadway—adv

Always Ready." This material is based on an adaptation of content presented in "Survival Under Atomic Attack, which is distributed by the Office of Civilian Defense, and is now available at the Lemon Grove School." As of today there is a First Aid Class being held from 3:30 to 5:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays in room 26 of the Golden Avenue Unit of the Lemon Grove School, Mr. Solleder stated, "and there are other classes scheduled to begin within the next two weeks." Two First Aid classes have been started at Grossmont this week on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:00 p. m. All of these courses will require 18 hours of instruction, and are open to the public.

Mrs. Marian Batchelder, Director of Welfare Services, stated that until further information is forthcoming from the State-wide Disaster control organization.

ation, a local survey is being made to ascertain what facilities are available. It is assumed that we will be called upon to furnish food, clothing, housing and nursing service in the event of a disaster, and through a bulletin sent out by the schools, this information is being compiled for further use. Mrs. Ruth Pfister will be in charge of the feeding, Mrs. Wesley R. Herbert will head the nursing, and there will be someone appointed to take charge of the clothing in the very near future.

Lemon Grove is as well prepared to launch a large scale Disaster Control Program as are any of the surrounding communities, although to date the organization has received no concrete plans from headquarters. When such plans are forthcoming, the Directors expect to be able to call upon volunteers at once to start intensive training programs and to establish posts for the various services throughout the Lemon Grove District.

Water Company is Your Business

The territory served by the company is 50,000 people.

There are 22,000 acres of land in the district, with a total assessed valuation of $8 1/2 million. The district assesses the land only, and has a tax rate of $2 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Installed 2311 New Meters

This tax levy takes care of the bonded indebtedness, which at the present time is $1,506,768.40. All other expenses are paid out of revenue. Tax delinquencies in 1949-50 amounted to only 1 1/2% and the year previous less than 1%.

The company installed 2311 new services in 1950. During this same period the city of San Diego, with 10 times the population, installed only 2 1/2 times as many meters.

With increased demand, and no mountain run-off, the district found it necessary to buy more Colorado River water.

The district is a member of the San Diego County Water Authority, another political subdivision set up to bring Colorado River water to San Diego County from the Metropolitan aqueduct.

Ten communities of San Diego County make up the San Diego County Water Authority, and each is prorated a proportionate share of the voting strength of the Authority, but San Diego city is only allowed 50% of the vote. This irrigation district has seven votes in the Authority.

Colorado River Water

First delivery of water through the San Diego County aqueduct was made in December, 1947, and the pipeline has been running 100% of capacity—65,000-000 gallons per day, ever since. Hence this agitation for a second barrel.

In 1950 water stored in local reservoirs dropped from 21% of capacity to 16%. So the directors have a problem ahead of them to keep water flowing to householders throughout the Irrigation District. Our very existence depends upon the ability of the district officials to keep ample water in storage for our daily needs.

Water is so cheap as to be a negligible item in the daily cost of living. The rates: Minimum, 400 cu. ft. $1

400 to 1,000, 25 per 100

1,000 to 3,000, 20 per 100

All over 3,000, 07 per 100

Five directors, a treasurer and an assessor-collector are elected by the people of the district to run the affairs of the company. These directors employ a manager and staff of office employees and maintenance men.

R. M. Levy of La Mesa is president, Joe Levikov of Grossmont-Helix is vice-president. Other members of the board are Wm. West of Lemon Grove, W. H. Sperry of Spring Valley and Jack Schrade of El Cajon.

The district is divided into five divisions, as follows: La Mesa No. 1, La Mesa No. 2, Lemon Grove No. 3, Spring Valley No. 4 and El Cajon No. 5. Directors are elected for four year terms, as are the treasurer and assessor-collector.

M. J. Shelton is the manager and engineer, A. W. Grosse treasurer and chief accountant; James L. Squire assessor-collector, Ray Pearson Superintendent and Margaret Perry secretary.

Your water company has a book value of $4,754,745.03. So you have a vital interest in its welfare. It is your business that every voter, especially the property owners, go to the polls on Wednesday, February 7, and vote for the man they feel will best serve their interests on the board.
